LOS ANGELES

THE CITY

seen closer now ... Oz-like and magical and CUT TO

POSTCARD VIEWS of Los Angeles ... inside the city now ... Beverly Hills framed against mountains ... looking down from Mulholland ... boulevard lights like strings of pearls ... desert clarity and CUT TO

THE L.A. RIVER flows darkly before us ... CAMERA rising above a FLOOD CHANNEL to a fenced industrial area where

LOUIS "LOU" BLOOM is a silhouette against the city glow ... using bolt cutters to rip down a square of chain-link fence ... muscling it into the back of a beat-up CAR as he hears something, turns to SEE approaching in the distance ... LOU slamming the trunk as the lights and we see him ... LOU'S 30 ... pure primal id ... if there's music it's in his head ... disconnected ... feral ... driven by dollar signs and a dream of some imagined Eden as stops and a MAN gets out ... framed in headlights ... wearing a utility belt with mace and handcuffs ...

HEADLIGHTS

SWEEP

A PICK-UP TRUCK

MAN'S VOICE

What are you doing out here?

LOU

I'm lost.

MAN'S VOICE

This is a restricted area.

LOU

I didn't know that. There's no signs.

MAN

They're everywhere. Let's see some I.D.

LOU

Why?

MAN

Because there's a broken gate back there and you're trespassing.

LOU

Excuse me, but that gate was open, sir. I was under the opinion that it was a detour. What kind of uniform is that?

MAN

I'll ask the fucking questions.

LOU seeing a SECURITY EMBLEM on the man's sleeve ...

LOU

Private outfit, huh? I tried to get one of those jobs. I like guarding things. (pulling a license) Here you go, sir. I think what happened is I just must've gotten turned around.

The MAN reaches for LOU'S license and CLOSE ON

A CHUNKY WATCH on the MAN'S wrist ... minute hand ticking 1:19 AM as attacks ... fight going to ground ... dust rising into the headlights and CUT TO gliding along an endless VALLEY BOULEVARD ... shut stores and deserted parking lots ... street lights on every empty corner ... like a movie set waiting for the next day's shooting ... LOU'S hand shifts on the steering wheel as he admires

LOU

LOU'S CAR

THE GUARD'S WATCH

on his wrist ... industrial ROAR bleeding in and CUT TO eating CARS at the edge of the valley ... night CREW craning junkers into grinding blades as

A GIANT MACHINE

INSIDE THE OFFICE

LOU speaks to the SCRAPYARD OWNER over the noise ...

LOU

I guesstimate I have 50 pounds of copper wire, a hundred pounds of chain-link and two manhole covers, the nice thick ones.

SCRAPYARD OWNER

I'll give 50-cents-a-pound for the wire, 15 for the fence and 10 for the covers.

LOU

That's below market value.

SCRAPYARD OWNER

Market value? You know the cops came by asking about manhole covers.

LOU

I'd like to counter at a dollar-a-pound for the copper, 30-cents-a-pound for the fence and 20-cents-per for the covers.

SCRAPYARD OWNER

Sell 'em somewhere else.

LOU

I'd feel good at 75, 25 and 15.

SCRAPYARD

I'm not negotiating with you.

LOU

I think we're close.

SCRAPYARD OWNER

We're done. Take it or leave it.

LOU

I'm willing to take less to establish a business relationship. If that's your last best offer then I guess I accept.

SCRAPYARD OWNER

Drive around back and unload 'em.

LOU

Sir, excuse me, I'm looking for a job. In fact, I've made up mind to find a career I can learn and grow into. Who am I? I'm a hard-worker, I set high goals and I've been told I'm persistent. Now I'm not fooling myself, sir. Having been raised with the self-esteem movement so popular in schools, I used to expect my needs to be considered. But I know that today's work culture no longer caters to the job loyalty that could be promised to earlier generations. What I believe, sir, is that good things come to those who work their asses off, and that people such as yourself who reach the top of the mountain didn't just fall there. My motto is if you want to win the lottery you have to make the money to buy a ticket. Did I say I worked in a garage? Sir, I think you and I could work well together. So how about it? I can start tomorrow or even why not tonight?

SCRAPYARD OWNER filling out a form ... muttering 'no' ...

LOU

How about an internship then? A lot of young people are taking unpaid positions to get a foot in the door. That's something I'd be willing to do.

SCRAPYARD OWNER

I'm not hiring a fucking thief.

DEAD OF NIGHT

LOU alone in his car, driving an L.A. FREEWAY ... windows down ... clock blinking 3:44 AM ... ad on the radio ... LOU sees an accident ahead ... passes

TWO HIGHWAY PATROLMEN

LOU

Excuse me. This'll be on tv?

JOE

Morning news.

LOU

What channel?

JOE

Whoever pays the most.

LOU

What do you get for something like this?

JOE

Not much.

LOU

Enough to buy all that gear.

JOE

It's a flaming asshole of a job.

LOU

How do you sell what you shoot?

JOE ignoring him, loading equipment in the van ...

LOU

Can I ask you, are you currently hiring?

JOE

No.

LOU

Well thank you for taking the time to discuss what you do. You've been very helpful.

OWNER

I dunno. I'll give you 500.

LOU

This is a custom racing bicycle, sir, designed for competitive road cycling. This bike has a lightweight, space-age carbon frame and handlebars positioned to put the rider in a more aerodynamic posture. It also has micro-shifters and 37 gears and weighs under six pounds. I won the Tour de Mexico on this bike.

OWNER

700. High as I'll go.

LOU

It cost me over 8000 new.

NINA

Cut from 'she heard yelling' to 'and then a bang' and then I want to lay over some nat sound. Let's loop the neighbor's dog barking and then try taking the crying kid from b roll and dropping that in the background.

NINA sees LOU at the door ...

NINA

You my fill-in operator?

LOU

I don't think so. I shot some footage.
For sale.

NINA

A stringer?

LOU

What?

NINA

Who do you work for?

LOU

At the moment I work for myself.

NINA

See Frank, out there, the way you came.
(to the EDITOR)
What's it time to?

EDITOR

1:06.

NINA

The slot's 56. Trim the header four.

NINA sips coffee as the EDITOR trims a shot of police tape around a smashed apartment door ... glancing back as LOU leaves ...

NINA

What do you have?

LOU

Something I'm fairly certain you'll be excited about.

NINA

What is it?

LOU

It's a shooting. A man is shot, several times in fact, and he's lying on the ground. He's bleeding on the ground. I would be surprised if he survived, honestly. He was shot during a car-jacking.

NINA

From Western and First?

LOU

Yes, that's right.

NINA

I heard Seven had the exclusive.

LOU

No. I was there and I was much closer to what was happening.

NINA

Well let's see it.

LOU

(hands her his camcorder)

You can watch it on the little screen.

NINA

You've never done this before.

LOU

Yes. I mean no. I'm just starting.

NINA

(dials a phone)
I need you to see something.

NINA hangs up ... watches the screen as LOU'S shoved back by the police and ... FRANK KRUSE (brisk, capable) enters the editing bay ...

NINA

Lou Bloom, Frank Kruse, our assignment
editor.
(to the EDITOR)
Play it back.

FRANK

watches LOU'S footage ... winces at the gore ...

NINA

That's the lead. I want to break it up and do a wrap-around from the scene.
Let's get Joel rolling. I want a walking stand-up. Teaser at five and repeat on the half. I want the copy to start with a warning.

FRANK

You're going to show this?

NINA

With a warning.

FRANK

It's excessive.

NINA

We should have packages like this every day.

FRANK

People are eating breakfast.

NINA

And they'll talk about it at work. Tie it in with the carjacking last month in Glendale and the other one, the van in Palms, when was that? March. It's a carjacking crime wave. That's the banner. Call the victim's family. Get a quote. Mike it. You know what to do.

(to LOU)

How much?

LOU

Well, I'm selling this particular piece for ten thousand. I think at that price there's a lot of value in it for you.

NINA

Not even close. This late you have no where else to go. And the quality's for shit. I'll give you a 1000, that's the most I'll do. Now let's get you paid.

NEWSROOM BULLPEN

LOU alone ... looking around as ... NINA comes in, hands him a check ...

NINA

Buy some better equipment. A directional mike. Get interviews when you can. You have a good eye.

LOU

Thank you. I'm just beginning so praise from someone such as yourself, well you can imagine it means quite a lot.

NINA

I'll help anyway I can. And of course, you can help me by calling us first. I want you to contact me when you have something.

LOU

Something like this?

NINA

That's right.

LOU

Bloody.

NINA

That's only part of it. We like crime. Not all crime. A carjacking in Compton, for example, that isn't news, now is it? We find our viewers are more interested in urban crime creeping into the suburbs. What that means is a victim or victims, preferably well-off and/or white, injured at the hands of the poor, or a minority.

LOU

Just crime?

NINA

No. Accidents play. Cars, buses, trains, planes. Fires. Suicides.

LOU

But bloody.

NINA

Graphic. The best and clearest way that I can phrase it to you, Lou, to capture the spirit of what we air, is think of our newscast as a screaming woman running down the street with her throat cut.

LOU

I understand. I've always been a very fast learner. You'll be seeing me again.

NINA

I believe you.

The ANCHORS appear, suitably breathless ...

ANCHORWOMAN

A tragic drug store visit to help his ailing wife claimed the life of a loving husband last night in East Los Angeles. Reporting from the scene is Joel Beatty.

The REPORTER begins a walking stand-up toward the police-taped crime scene ...

REPORTER

An act of kindness turned into a savage, deadly attack outside this market on Western and First at 2 am when 68-year-old Richard Cho of Mar Vista was walking toward his car with a prescription for his sick wife and was confronted right here by a black male with a 9mm handgun who police believe tried to take his vehicle. The vicious tragedy and senselessness of the brutal shooting as well as the victim's last moments were captured in graphic footage we are about to air. Viewer discretion is advised.

LOU
Louis. Sit down.

RICK sits ... a broke hustler ... loser's self-disgust ...

LOU
I need someone who doesn't drink or do drugs.

RICK Okay.

LOU
The situation is that I lost an employee and I'm interviewing for a replacement.

RICK
Your ad didn't list what the job was.

LOU
It's a fine opportunity for some lucky someone.
(pulling a notepad)

LOU
It wasn't a question.

RICK
I'm straight.

LOU
A lot of straight guys trick. Do you have a driver's license?

RICK Yeah.

LOU
Do you know L.A.?

RICK
I grew up all around here.

LOU
Can you start tonight?

RICK Doing what?

LOU

I run a successful tv news business. I film breaking stories. Maybe you saw my item this morning of a fatal carjacking.

RICK

I don't have a tv.

LOU

Do you have a cell phone?

RICK

Yeah.

LOU

Does it have GPS?

RICK

Yeah.

LOU

Congratulations. You're hired. Your job will be to listen to the emergency radio, learn the police codes, help navigate and watch the car.

RICK

What's it pay?

LOU

It's an internship.

RICK

I can't do that. I need money.

LOU

I'm giving you the chance to explore career options and gain insight into my organization. It's not at all unusual for me to make full-time job offers to my interns.

RICK

I gotta get paid. At least something.

LOU

I'll give you 30 dollars cash per night.

LOU

Don't rush you. Okay. Good, I can use that ... NINA

So where'd you get all that?

LOU

I study a lot on-line.

NINA

Yeah. What?

LOU circling the news set ... taking it in as he talks ...

LOU

Well, all sorts of things, actually. I'm on my computer all day. I haven't had what you'd call much formal education but you can find most anything if you look hard enough. Last year I took an on-line business course, for example. I learned you have to have a business plan before starting a business, and that why you pursue something is as important as what you pursue. The site advised you to answer the following question before deciding where to focus your abilities. The question was 'What do I love to do?' The site suggested making a list of my strengths and weaknesses. What are you good at? And what are you not that good at? Maybe you want to strengthen and develop knowledge about the things you're already good at. Or maybe you might want to strengthen your weaknesses. I recently remade my list and I'm thinking now that television news might just be something that I love as well as something that I happen to be good at.

K.W.L.A. EXCLUSIVE Horror In Westchester

REPORTER/OVER

This sleepy Westchester lane erupted in gunfire at approximately 1:20 last night, with sheriff's deputies telling K.W.L.A. that over 30 shots were exchanged in a shootout that left two unidentified but alleged drug users dead in the foreclosed home behind me. But the horror was only beginning inside the neighboring house where Robert and Cathy Cahill were left frantically checking their baby daughter for injuries after the barrage shattered the safety, as well as their windows and rooms, with high-caliber bullets.

The inside of the couple's house is seen ... money shot of the family photo on the bullet-pierced fridge ...

REPORTER/OVER

Police investigators are now mounting a massive search for the gunmen, with one senior official telling K.W.L.A. that it was a miracle innocent victims weren't injured or killed in the shootout. That official also conveyed concern for the very real possibility of more gunplay in other L.A. neighborhoods, urging all Southland residents to exercise caution by locking their doors and windows.

I'm focusing on framing. A proper frame not only draws the eye into a picture but keeps it there longer, dissolving the barrier between the subject and the outside of the shot.

NINA

Is that blood on your pants?

LOU

I don't think so. You know I recently heard about a Mexican restaurant called Cabanita. Have you heard of it?

NINA

It's also on your sleeve.

LOU

I didn't see that.

NINA hands him a make-up towel ... LOU wiping his sleeve ...

Cabanita has been called an authentic taste of Mexico City. Most evenings there's live music, but on Saturdays classic Mexican films are shown. Do you want to go with me? I think it would be fun if we went together.

NINA

Thanks, but I'm busy.

LOU

Saturday's your night off, isn't it?

NINA

I have a rule, Lou. I don't date people I work with. And I'm twice your age.

LOU listens ... acting less interested than he really is ...

JOE

Otherwise it's a nice ride. I had a '97 Challenger but lost it in a divorce. The laws of California aren't friendly to alimony payments. You got a good run going but there's valleys out there. Believe me, I've been nightcrawling eight years. You hear I'm adding a second van?

LOU

I didn't hear that.

JOE

Gonna be a game changer. Cut our on-scene time in half. And I'm setting up a dedicated dispatch. No more listening and driving. You like the Canon 300s?

LOU

I never used one.

JOE

Six thou a piece. 2.4 megapixels, night vision, 18-to-1 zoom, image stabilizing. I got one with your name on it.

LOU

I have a camera.

JOE

I want you running my second van. Two crews. Half the territory to cover. Now I know what you're thinking, half the money. But it also means twice the sales 'cause we're gonna be first at the scene. Why compete when we can work together? You can use my press cards. Puppydog off my police connections. This is the big move. The next level. We can corner this whole thing. I'm talking about putting some heavy digits in our pockets.

LOU

Thanks for offering me the position but working for myself is more in line with my skills and career goals.

JOE

Take a few days to think about it.

LOU

No. You'll need to hire someone else and I don't want to hold up the process.

JOE

You want to be on the inside of this. I'm gonna be tag-teaming every call.

NINA

Where are you from, Lou?

LOU

The north end of the valley. Some of the calls sometimes take me over that way but nobody I know is still out there. You're from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

NINA

How did you know that?

LOU

It's online. Everything about you's online. Well not everything, but definitely a lot. I've watched all the videos from when you were a reporter. I'm sure you look at them of course.

NINA

God no, not without a drink in my hand.

LOU

I watch my work all the time.

NINA

Do you want to become a reporter?

LOU

No.

NINA

Most of you guys want air-time.

LOU

Not me. I want to be the guy who owns the station that owns the camera. The business is doing well but I'm ready to grow to the next level. To do that I need to stay one step ahead of my competition and take risks. I also need financial support to implement expansion. Would you like another margarita?

NINA

One's enough.

LOU

Thanks for coming out to talk. The place I'm in now is that I want a relationship with somebody I can team up with and share, like we share the same hours, the same job and whatnot. I could go down a laundry list but you get the idea.

NINA

I hope you find someone.

LOU

Here's the thing about that, Nina, I'm quite certain that I already have.

NINA

Okay, let me put this politely. I only came out to dinner with you, Lou, purely as a professional courtesy.

LOU

Thank you, because I don't think it's a secret that I've single-handedly raised the unit price on your ratings book.

NINA

Our ratings book price?

LOU

I'm a very fast learner, Nina. We had a conversation and I specifically mentioned that. Do you remember? Well do you?

NINA

Yes.

LOU

I recently learned, for instance, that most Americans watch local news to stay informed. I also learned that an average half-hour of Los Angeles television news packs all its local government coverage -- including budget, law enforcement, education, transportation and immigration -- into 22 seconds. Local crime stories, however, not only usually led the news but filled 14 times the broadcast, averaging 5 minutes 7 seconds. And K.W.L.A. relies heavily on such stories. With Los Angeles crime rates going down I think that makes items like mine particularly valuable, like rare animals. I imagine your needs will only increase during next week's rating sweeps period.

NINA

We certainly appreciate what you do.

LOU

There's certain good things in being alone. You have time to do the things you want to do, like study and plan. But you can't have dinners like this. Or be physical with a person, I mean beyond a flirtationship.

NINA

Where are you going with this?

LOU

I want that. With you. Like you want to keep your job and your health insurance.

NINA

Look, just for starters I don't need you to keep my fucking job.

LOU

You're the news director on the vampire shift at the lowest rated station in L.A. I have to think you're invested in this transaction.

NINA

Where did you get the balls to even suggest something like this?

LOU

We're still talking.

NINA

There's nothing more to say.

LOU

You can leave.

NINA

You've done well. Okay? We pay you well. Very well. We always have. If you like, I can get you an exclusive retainer, that would be on top of your segment fees. I could maybe even get you a job at the station, starting as a production assistant, so you can learn the business from the inside, that's where you said your interests lie, see where it goes.

LOU

You're not listening, Nina. I happen to know you haven't stayed at one station for more than two years at a time, and you're coming up on two years soon. So I can imagine you have a contract for that length of time and that ratings during the next week will directly affect that.

NINA

You're threatening if I don't ...

LOU

I'm negotiating.

NINA

You're threatening to stop selling to me.

LOU

That's your choice. The true price of any item is what someone's willing to pay. You want something and I want you.

NINA

To fuck you.

LOU

And as a friend.

NINA

Jesus Christ. Friends don't pressure friends to fucking sleep with them.

LOU

Actually that's not true, Nina. Because as I'm sure you know ... a friend is a gift you give yourself.

LOU

We beat the police.

LOU power-sliding to a stop at an ivied-wall ... jumping out with the camera ... filming as he sprints to an open gate and enters the grounds, alarm heard and is big and the lights are blazing and there's angled by the open front door and

LOU

THE HOUSE

A DARK CAR

TWO GUNSHOTS explode from inside as

LOU

veers from entering the home and

A BIG MAN

plows out ... squeezes himself into the

DARK CAR and pounds the horn and

LOU'S CAMERA POV

filming from the darkness as

A SECOND MAN

runs out... blood streaking a cheek ... jumping in the car ... spray of gravel ... tail-lights disappearing down the drive and

LOU

emerges ... alone on the lawn ... house door open ... alarm wailing ... LOU filming as he approaches and enters the home and CUT TO

INSIDE THE HOUSE

there's a shotgun on the marble foyer floor and a sweeping staircase and a broad streak of red where was dragged and the alarm's wailing and LOU'S filming as he follows the blood trail into

A BODY

A LIVING ROOM with a soaring ceiling and antiques and

A DEAD LATIN AMERICAN WOMAN shot in the chest slumped on a sofa and

LOU

films as he moves deeper into the house and enters

A HUGE, CUSTOM KITCHEN with bullet-pocked appliances and wood panelling and

A MIDDLE-AGED WHITE MAN lying in his underwear in a pool of spilled soda .. makes a slight gasping sound and shoots the scene, utterly unaffected as he circles back and

LOU

LOU

leaving the kitchen ... back in the foyer ... taking

THE SWEEPING STAIRCASE and moving quickly up the curved, carpeted steps to

THE SECOND FLOOR

where he films a dropped shotgun with a pistol stock and follows a new blood trail down a broad hall and enters decorated to a high degree where

A BEDROOM

A WHITE WOMAN dead from multiple gunshots is sprawled on a sleigh bed with designer sheets and

LOU

films from several angles before backing out and crossing and walking into

THE HALL

A NURSERY

fit for a prince and it's dim and a night light projects

A ROTATING STAR PATTERN

on the ceiling as LOU films

A CRIB

and story-book wallpaper and there's no sign of a baby and the alarm doesn't stop and works fast and efficiently and he's shooting every detail before leaving the nursery and hurrying back down and he rapidly descends the stairwell to FIND standing scared in the foyer near the open front door ...

LOU

THE HALL

RICK

RICK

What's going on?!

LOU

We're leaving.

LOU exits and RICK follows and CUT TO jogging down the driveway toward the front gate as approaching SIRENS are heard in the distance ...

LOU

RICK

What's in there?! What's going on?!

LOU

You should have walked in and looked, Rick. If you were half-curious. That's what I'm paying you to do. You need to show initiative. There's no better way to achieve job security than by making yourself an indispensable employee.

RICK

I heard gunshots. There was fucking blood on the floor.

LOU

All the more reason. You might have helped me. You might have learned a new skill that made you more useful and put us on a track toward growth.

LOU jumping in the car as RICK follows and doughnuts the cul-de-sac ... speeds down the private street ... disappears into the night as

THE CHALLENGER

FLASHING POLICE LIGHTS appear from the other direction and three POLICE CARS cut down the cul-de-sac with sirens screaming and CUT TO studio sign blazing against the night as pulls up outside the station ... turning to RICK ...

LOU

LOU

Step outside for a minute.

RICK

Why?

LOU

Because I asked you to.

NINA

I've been trying to reach you for the last hour. In the future, when you don't have anything, man-up and don't dodge my fucking calls. It's a waste of my time.

LOU

I do have something.

NINA

What?

LOU

I have a home invasion triple murder in Granada Hills.

NINA

That's just breaking now.

LOU

We got there before the police.

NINA

You have it?

LOU

I'm not going to list the many benefits of this piece. I think it's best that you probably just watch it for yourself.

NINA

I could have had someone out there by now, why didn't you call it in?

LOU

To increase your need and improve my bargaining position.

NINA

(into the conference room)
Frank, Jenny -- bay two, now.

LOU following NINA down the hall and CUT TO

THE HOME INVASION FOOTAGE

LOU

watches behind them ... proud to the point of serene as

NINA

NINA

Get Linda in here.

Carnage on the screen is reflected in their expressions as enters (middle-aged, managerial) ... crammed close ... unblinking gaze ... hard eye ...

LINDA

NINA

Home invasion in Granada. He got there before the cops. It's 10 minutes to air time, how much of this can we show?

LINDA

You mean legally?

NINA

No, morally. Of course legally.

LINDA

Have they been identified?

FRANK

It just happened, so you have to assume no. And that's just one of the issues.

LINDA

Well you can't broadcast their identities without notifying next of kin.

NINA

We're not identifying them.

LINDA

You are by proxy by showing their faces.

NINA

We pixilate the faces.

LINDA

Where did you get this?

NINA

Stringer.

LOU (extending a hand)
Hello, Linda, I'm Lou.

JENNY
(re: the screen)
Oh Jesus, is there a dead baby inside there?

LOU
No, the crib was empty.

NINA
For Christ's sake, are we breaking the law by showing this?

LINDA
Block the faces, don't give the exact home address, do that, I guess, I mean, I don't, I wouldn't think so, no.

FRANK
Journalistically and ethically --

NINA
This isn't Hartford.

LOU
(re: the monitor)
Well, that's mostly it right there. From this point on I just went downstairs and then I left.

FRANK (to NINA)
What did you pay for this?

LOU
The price hasn't been negotiated.

NINA stabs the freeze frame button ...

NINA (to the room)
Give us a minute, please, thank you.

The OTHERS leave ... closing the door ...

NINA
How much?

LOU
A hundred thousand.

NINA

How much?

LOU

Fifty thousand.

NINA

I air in nine minutes. I need a number.

LOU

I've given you two.

NINA

5,000.

LOU

I got five for the food truck stabbings.

NINA

There were more dead.

LOU

Those were poor Mexican people in a roach coach. Two of them were illegals. These are three wealthy white people shot and killed inside their mansion, including a suburban wife shotgunned in her bed. I know you, Nina. I know your interest and excitement in this product is greater than the amount you're offering.

NINA

7,500.

LOU

35,000.

NINA

8,000.

LOU

25,000.

NINA

9,000.

LOU

25,000.

NINA

10,000.

LOU

15,000.

NINA

10,000.

LOU

15,000.

NINA

Give me a serious number.

LOU

15,000. And that's the absolute lowest that I'll go.

NINA

Can't do it. Never happen. There's the matter of precedent. 10's my last, best offer.

LOU stands to leave ...

LOU

Okay.

NINA

Stop. What? Where are you going?

LOU

Seven's approached me at least several times. The ND there gave me his card. I think Seven will offer more. It's a five minute drive.

NINA

Hold on. Goddamn it. 12.

15.

NINA

I can't spend a month's budget on a single story.

LOU

What if the story's not over? The people who did this escaped. They're still out there, walking around with the rest of us. If I had a family and I lived in a home that might make me nervous. I would want updates on what was going on. With this footage people will turn to your channel for the story. Now I like you, Nina, I look forward to our time together, but you have to understand that 15,000 isn't all that I want. From here on, starting now, I want my work to be credited by the anchors and on a burn. The name of my company is Video News Productions, a professional news gathering service. That's how it should read and that's how it should be said. I also want to go to the next rung and meet your team and the anchors and the director and the station manager, to begin developing my own personal relationships. I'd like to start meeting them this morning. You'll take me around and you'll introduce me as the owner and president of Video News and remind them of some of my many other stories. I'm not done. I also want to stop our discussions over prices. This will save time. So when I say a particular number is my lowest price, that is my lowest price and you can be sure I've arrived at whatever that number is very carefully. Now when I say I want these things I mean that I want them and I don't want to have to ask again. And the last thing that I want, Nina, is for you to do the things I ask you to do when we're alone together at your apartment, not like the last time.

(MORE)

LOU

NINA staring ...

LOU

Now. Tell you what. I have the van crash on Moorpark tonight. It was a couple of stringers, actually. That could lead by itself on an average night. I'd be willing to throw that in for free. So. What do you say? Do we have a deal?

ANCHORMAN

This is K.W.L.A. breaking news. In the last half-hour we have received word of an apparent home invasion triple homicide in the Granada Hills area of the San Fernando Valley. At present that number, that is the number of those dead, has not been confirmed by police, but K.W.L.A. has obtained exclusive footage from inside the crime scene in which at least three bodies can be observed. We are going to show segments of that footage throughout the broadcast and throughout the day as we break for police updates and information. Again, we're about to show exclusive K.W.L.A. video from inside the crime scene.

(MORE)

ANCHORMAN

NINA keying the ANCHORWOMAN'S ear-piece ...

NINA

It's graphic. Repeat it.

ANCHORWOMAN

Before broadcasting this video we want to warn viewers that these are extremely graphic images. We have obscured the address and the faces as well as any identifying details and apart from that, this is mostly raw and unedited actual footage again of a triple homicide home invasion that has just occurred in the upscale San Fernando neighborhood of Granada Hills.

NINA/OVER EAR-PIECE

Hit it again. Harder. Then roll.

ANCHORWOMAN

We have a team of K.W.L.A. reporters setting up at the scene that we will be speaking with shortly after we show what I must repeat is extremely graphic footage and I'm hearing from the control room that we have that and we're going to cue up that footage now.

LOU'S footage fills FRAME ... superimposed credit reading watching from the shadows ... dreams blossoming and ...

LOU

ANCHORMAN

This footage was obtained exclusively by K.W.L.A. from Video News Productions, a professional news gathering service. It begins on the premises, inside the house, and that is what appears to be blood on the floor of the residence, leading into what apparently is the living area, or a living area, and there is the first body, restrained it seems to a chair, again the faces, all the faces, will be blurred.

NINA/OVER EAR-PIECE

They escaped. They're on the loose.

ANCHORWOMAN

And that is the first of what we understand are three bodies in the home in Granada Hills, the result of what early reports suggest was a home invasion or robbery committed by a suspect or suspects who at this time are believed to have escaped. Who are still out there. And that's a very frightening thought.

INTERCUT: NINA keying the anchorman's ear-piece ...

NINA

Repeat that.

ANCHORMAN

It's very concerning, particularly given the savagery of what we're seeing and that looks to be the kitchen where you can see another body on the floor, and again I want to repeat, because it bears repeating, that the person or people who committed this brutal home invasion robbery are presently unidentified and at large, and that has to be a great worry not only to residents in the Granada Hills area but--

ANCHORWOMAN

All of greater Los Angeles--

ANCHORMAN

The entire Southland, absolutely.

LOU watching from the dark ... footage on display and ...

ANCHORMAN

... that's the third body there in the bed of the home in Granada Hills --

NINA/OVER EAR-PIECE

Vicious attack.

ANCHORWOMAN

-- and the only thought I have, the feeling I have is the viciousness --

ANCHORWOMAN

The severity of the violence --

ANCHORMAN

An apparent family attacked and savagely killed in their own home in what is one of the quieter and safer and frankly most expensive neighborhoods in the valley --

ANCHORWOMAN

In Los Angeles --

ANCHORMAN

By unknown assailants who have committed a vicious attack in this upscale enclave. That's a nursery there, and a crib --

NINA/OVER EAR-PIECE

Build it.

ANCHORWOMAN

And that is a child's room, and you just pray that there's nothing in that crib --

Tension builds until LOU'S tape shows the crib is empty ...

ANCHORMAN

Thank goodness. My understanding is there was no baby found in the house or any baby that was seen by the people who filmed this--

ANCHORMAN

Video News, a professional news gathering service, that apparently arrived before the police and entered the home to help or offer assistance and came upon the crime scene that we're watching now.

NINA/OVER EAR-PIECE

We're cutting to commercial then going to Joel and a police statement.

ANCHORWOMAN

And I'm getting word the police are getting ready to make a statement from the scene and Joel Beatty is there for that and I think we're going to now take a break from this graphic footage, with much more to come on the vicious home invasion triple murder in Granada Hills.

ANCHORMAN

And we'll be back after this ...

LOU

I didn't know it was a crime scene.

DETECTIVE LIEBERMAN

You knew what it was.

I know alarms mean someone's in trouble.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

LOU

We're a professional news gathering

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

What did you see when you arrived?

LOU

Two men leaving in a car.

DETECTIVE LIEBERMAN

What kind of car?

LOU

It was dark. I couldn't see what kind.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

Describe the men.

LOU

Well they were just shapes, really. I was afraid so I hid and then I saw the shapes of two men. I remember the men were running, if that helps.

DETECTIVE LIEBERMAN

Do you have film of the men or the car?

LOU

No, I don't. I didn't start filming until I was inside.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

I'd like a copy of that footage.

LOU

Do I have to give it to you?

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

Is there a reason you wouldn't?

LOU

No. I made you a copy. I expected someone to come.

RICK

LOU

One of them, quite possibly, yes.

RICK

You gotta call the cops.

LOU

And we will. At the right time. I'm offering you a real opportunity, Rick.

RICK

To do what?

LOU

I don't usually share my business plan with you, but a moment has arrived that could allow the company to make enough money to expand to the next level. We could call this the critical moment. I'm inviting you, Rick, to be part of the team that pounces on this opportunity.

LOU stopping at a light ... looking at RICK ...

LOU

You've been asking a lot about your performance review. Well, for starters I'm seeing a great improvement with regards to your overall focus and order following. Given complex problems you're developing a real ability to find clear, simple solutions. I'm also aware of your increased enthusiasm. It's great to see how your eyes light up when you're working on new ideas. I hope you'll be inspiring us with your innovative thinking for years to come.

RICK

That's salary, I'm talking about a bonus.

LOU

Bonuses come at the end of the year.

LOU staring across the street ... clock clicking 8:48 PM and

RICK

So we gonna call it in?

LOU

We're going to wait.

RICK

For what?

LOU

First we want to make sure he's actually inside. Then we want to find a more interesting place to film the arrest.

RICK

Where?

LOU

Anywhere we want. What we're going to do is we're going to wait for him to leave and then we're going to follow him. When he reaches what would be considered a better or more populated neighborhood we'll report his location to the police. He's a violent, wanted criminal. I have to believe that he's not going to just peacefully surrender.

RICK

Okay, I want more money. A lot more.

LOU

What makes a job desirable isn't just the dollar amount attached to it, Rick. You're on the ground floor of a growing business. Your reward is a career.

RICK

Fuck that. You're talking about some fucked up shit and you're asking me, you just expect me to be part of it.

LOU

I can't make people do things, Rick. You have a choice to do this and I have a choice if you don't.

RICK

You threatening to fire me? Hey, I got something too. Not calling criminals in, waiting for 'em to start shit so you can film it, that's against the fucking law. The cops would be majorly interested no fucking doubt. I want more money.

LOU

We can reopen negotiations, Rick, but remember that when it comes to your work reputation you can't un-ring the bell.

RICK

I want half of whatever we make tonight.

LOU

How did you arrive at that number?

RICK

There's two of us sitting here. 50-50.

LOU

I'll counter at 10,000.

RICK

You don't set the numbers on this. I want half.

LOU

If you're saying I can't negotiate then I guess I have to give it to you.

RICK

Alright then. Now I feel good about it. Now I'll go the extra mile. You never understood that, that's been the problem. You gotta bring people in, man. I'm serious. You gotta talk to 'em like they're human beings. I'm saying this to help you, dude, for the future. 'Cause you got a seriously weird ass way of looking at shit. You know you do. I mean you know what your trouble is? You don't fucking understand people.

LOU/INTO PHONE

Louis Bloom.

911/OVER

Do you have a description of the men?

LOU/INTO PHONE

Yes I do. They're both Latin American men. What you'd probably call Hispanic. One's big, very much on the heavy side, and the other's face is scratched. He has red scratches across his face.

911/OVER

How old are the men?

LOU/INTO PHONE

I'd say they're 30. Maybe perhaps 35.

911/OVER

What are they wearing?

LOU/INTO PHONE

The big man's wearing sweat pants with a camouflage pattern and a white t-shirt, and the man with the scratches is wearing black pants and a white-t. He looks like he has a gun.

911/INTO PHONE

The suspect is armed?

LOU/INTO PHONE

I believe so, yes. I'm sorry, I have to hang up otherwise they might see me.

LOU hangs up ... turns up LAPD DIV-1 and

SCANNER

-- All Wilshire units, possible 1-8-7, suspects there now, Western and Third, at Chinatown Express. Suspects are two male Hispanics. Number one, large build, number two with scratches on his face, inside the location, possibly armed. Code three, incident 3-5-7-7. R.D. 97-73.

LOU reaching in the backseat, pulling the camera as RICK looks from the scanner to the restaurant ... the two MEN waiting on line to order ...

RICK

There's fucking people in there.

LOU

I count 6.

RICK

Oh shit, man. They could start shooting.

LOU

They could.

RICK

You said we were waiting for a better neighborhood with more people, not a fucking crowded restaurant.

LOU

We work with what we're given.

LOU hands RICK a small camcorder ...

LOU

You're going to go around and get an angle inside from those dumpsters over there. Steady hands, use the zoom, and no fast pans. I'll be filming from here.

RICK

Fuck that. I'm not leaving the car.

LOU

I want a second angle from behind the dumpsters. We can cut them together. Two angles. Believe me, it's more dangerous here in the car.

RICK

I don't believe anything you say. This is fucked.

LOU

Do you know I've never once cursed in front of an employer.

RICK

I'm not going out there. I'm not doing it.

LOU

You're making a mistake.

RICK

I don't care about my fucking title.

LOU

What if my problem wasn't that I don't understand people but that I don't like them? What if I was the kind of person who was obliged to hurt you for this? I mean physically. I think you'd have to believe afterward, if you could, that agreeing to participate and then backing out at the critical moment was a mistake. Because that's what I'm telling you, as clearly as I can.

RICK takes the camcorder ... gets out of the car and CLOSE ON powers the camera ... wipes the lens ... looking through and

LOU

CAMERA POV

inside the restaurant ... perfect view through plate glass
... the two MEN at a table ... waiting for their order and

PAN TO

RICK in shadow behind the dumpster ... looking inside as

LOU

glances in the rear-view, SEES

A POLICE CAR

silently slide into the parking lot and

LOU

presses RECORD and

LOU zooming tight on the two MEN inside the restaurant ... sitting at a table and

LOU zooms to two POLICEMAN as they enter ... passing the two MEN at the table ... going to the counter and

WE SEE

On the camera viewfinder ... the two cops at the counter ... looking up at the menu ... conferring about food ...

LOU unsure what's happening ... zooming in on the cops ... seeing them talk between themselves at the counter ...
utterly casual and

LOU pans to the two MEN at the table ... talking while they await their order ...

LOU watching ... waiting ... nothing happening as films from a second angle ... glued to his viewfinder ... the two MEN and the COPS only 15 feet apart and staring ... not understanding ... zooming in closer to see ... the HEAVY MAN'S hand slide beneath the table and rest by his waistband and to the COPS to see ... one of the COPS spotted the move ... hand settling on his hip ... near his gun ... body language of both COPS changing as the angle slightly from the counter ... still pretending to decide what to eat and filming as the second POLICE CAR pulls up ... two more COPS emerging and

RICK

LOU

LOU PANS

RICK

LOU'S CAMERA

shifts to the second police car ... two COPS radioing their arrival ... slowly approaching the front door ... hands on holsters ... stepping inside as

LOU ZOOMS IN

as the HEAVY MAN spots the two COPS coming through the door ... electric beat and ... the HEAVY MAN stands while drawing a gun and ...

THE NEXT HAPPENS IN SECONDS

HEAVY shoots the lead of the two arriving COPS ... who fires and shoots HEAVY as he falls ...

SCRATCHED FACE begins a gun battle with the two COPS at the counter ... both COPS hit ...

Window shattering as ...

SCRATCHED FACE is hit in the shoulder ... propels himself through the broken glass ... crashing outside ...

GUN blazing ... leaping in the ESCALADE and speeding away as sprints around the front .. firing at the fleeing Escalade and navigates a sharp right hand turn and starts the engine ... car leaping forward ... LOU stopping in the street as jumps in ... clawing to close the door as wails into view ... COP on the street waving it down the alley as fishtails in pursuit ... nearly hits the COP and

ONE OF THE COPS

THE ESCALADE

LOU

RICK

A POLICE CAR

LOU

RICK

Oh fuck fuck fuck! Oh my God!

LOU

Did you get it?

RICK

There's people dead in there!

SCANNERS

blaring com-chatter of the shooting and locations as floors it ... eyeing the following police car and escaping car's taillights ...

LOU

LOU

Aim the camera at the car and start filming.

RICK

This is fucking fucked!

LOU

Film the car. I'm relying on you to deliver a winning performance, Rick.

Speed climbing as they skid onto Third and starts filming as they trail

RICK

THE POLICE CAR

close behind ... pursuing the CHASE CAR ...

LOU

Wide angle. Get it all. Nice and centered.

SPEEDOMETER sweeping through 80 ... 90 ... 100 as

SCANNERS

-- 7-A-27, we just turned Northbound on Western. Requesting back-up and an air unit.

-- Any air unit, come up on Wilshire frequency.

-- Northbound, 70 miles an hour, approaching a fresh red.

-- Black Escalade, give me an E.T.A. on that air unit.

-- Stand-by.

-- Heading North on Western.

-- Another red --

THEY APPROACH AN INTERSECTION

and

A CAR

appears ... going fast ... sailing into view and

BROADSIDING THE POLICE CAR directly in front of us... two cars tumbling away and

SCANNERS

-- 7-A-27 come in.

-- 7-A-37 come in.

-- No response from 7-A-27.

LOU cranking the volume ... filling the car with overlapping scanners ...

LOU barreling by the crash ...

RICK

filming through the passenger window and

LOU IS THE CHARIOTEER of a hyper-speed weaving train of madness ... destruction in the rear-view ... dollars ahead and CUT TO

AN INTERSECTION of two major avenues ... fast TRAFFIC taking the light as skids through ... directly in front of the Escalade ...

A POLICE CAR

ESCALADE ramming into the police car from behind ... several times ... accelerating and launching it sideways ... POLICE CAR crashing violently as veers ... losing control and split-second view of

THE ESCALADE

AN EXPLOSION OF GLASS AND STEEL as the Escalade crashes head-on into a line of parked cars and CUT TO brakes hard and he's heading straight for the truck at

LOU

90 MPH

and

LOU cuts the wheel at the last second and

THE CHALLENGER

threads the wreckage to come to some 100 feet away as

A STOP

LOU

jumps out with his camera and calls to RICK ...

LOU

Let's go. Get up there and film it.

LOU jogging toward the mangled CHASE CAR as follows ... frightened but filming with the camcorder and

RICK

LOU'S CAMERA POV

zooming on the crashed CHASE CAR and

THE SCRATCHED FACE DRIVER is glimpsed in the wreckage ... bloody and

RICK'S VIEW

as he films through the windshield of the crashed SUV as raises the gun and aims and BAM!

SCRATCHED FACE

BAM!

BAM!

as

RICK

takes three SHOTS point-blank to the chest and open up from the opposite direction ... firing dozens of shots and CUT TO

THE COPS

LOU

filming as

SCRATCHED FACE

is shredded ... frantic law enforcement overkill ... collapsing back into the wreckage and the swarm as

COPS

LOU

backs away and approaches

RICK

flat-backed on pavement ... bloody ... breathing his last and

LOU

zooms close as

RICK speaks ...

RICK

-- you saw him --

LOU

stops shooting ... crouching down ...

LOU

I can't jeopardize the company's success to retain an untrustworthy employee.

RICK

-- you're crazy --

LOU

You took my bargaining power, Rick. You used it against me. You'd have done it again. Just admit it.

RICK

I don't know ... I don't know ...

LOU

I know ... I know ...

RICK dies as

LOU

looks up and sees

EMERGENCY VEHICLES

coming from all directions and

LOU

taking RICK'S camcorder and walking through a swarm of

FIRST-RESPONDERS and speed-dialing his cell and climbing into

THE CHALLENGER

and pulling away and CUT TO

THE K.W.L.A. SIGN blazing through fog ... neon letters humming with current as speeds into the parking lot ... LOU exiting with the two cameras and CUT TO as LOU strides through the newsroom ... straight and tall ... saying hello to people he walks by ...

THE CHALLENGER

INSIDE THE STATION

LOU

Hello Dean ... Hello Meredith ... Hi
Jenny ... Good evening, Charles ...

PEOPLE nod as LOU passes the ANCHORS coming from make-up ...

LOU

Hello Lisa. Hello Ken.

LISA

Hi.

KEN

Hey. Lou, right? Video News.

LOU

Yes. Hello. Nice to see you.

KEN

Got anything good for us tonight?

LOU

I think so. I'm actually on my way to show it to Nina right now.

(calling back)

I can tell by your tie it's Friday.

KEN laughs as he and LISA continue down the hall and CUT TO

EDITING BAY

as NINA and the EDITOR sit in darkness ... watch LOU'S footage ... stunned silence ... sirens and crash sounds and brakes and gunshots coming from the screen and CLOSE ON as the footage ends with RICK dying on the pavement ...

THE MONITOR

NINA
(to the EDITOR)
You can go.

The EDITOR leaves ... NINA turns to in the shadows ...

LOU

NINA
Wasn't that your partner?

LOU
As a matter of fact that's him.

NINA
Well. I'm floored. I mean it's amazing.

LOU
Thank you.

NINA
I mean ... just amazing.

LOU
Thank you.

NINA
Thank you. Thank you for bringing it to me.

LOU
You're welcome.

NINA
I want it. Obviously.

LOU
How much do you want it?

NINA
You tell me.

BLINDING BRIGHTNESS

as the news set lights flood on and CUT TO

THE CONTROL ROOM

is busy ... LOU'S footage on several screens ... NINA riding herd as TECHS slug segments ... set music ... copy typed as

THE WALL CLOCK

DETECTIVE FRONTIERI AND HER PARTNER

come through the door ... looking around ... seeing the footage on the screens ...

DETECTIVE FRONTIERI

(to an ASSISTANT)

Who's in charge here?

The ASSISTANT points to the DIRECTOR ...

DETECTIVE FRONTIERI

(approaching the DIRECTOR)

Who are you?

DIRECTOR

Who are you?

DETECTIVE FRONTIERI

(showing her badge)

LAPD. Major case. Pull the footage on these screens. Round it up. Let's go. All copies.

NINA

Can I help you?

DETECTIVE FRONTIERI

You can help yourself by collecting up every copy you have of the shoot-out, the chase, the crash -- all of it. Now.

NINA

It's K.W.L.A. property.

DETECTIVE FRONTIERI

It's evidence.

NINA

Of what?

DETECTIVE FRONTIERI

I got a cop near death in the hospital, two dead and four wounded and a dozen major crimes stretching a mile of Third.
That tape is evidence.

NINA

It's news footage bought and paid for from an independent contractor.

DETECTIVE FRONTIERI

How do you think he got it?

NINA

If there's an issue speak to him.

DETECTIVE FRONTIERI

Don't get in the way of this.

NINA

Unless you have a judge's order we're going with it in four minutes.

Charged beat as the SECOND DETECTIVE looks at the wall of monitors and SEES

LOU

on one of the screens ... standing in the sound stage ... staring at a live shot projection on the weather board of sunrise over MOUNT WILSON and --

SECOND DETECTIVE

Hey, isn't that him?

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

(seeing LOU, to NINA)

I'll make a note of your refusal to cooperate.

The DETECTIVES leave and CLOSE ON

CONTROL ROOM MONITORS

as the DETECTIVES are seen entering the sound stage and watches them roughly arrest LOU ... handcuffing him and escorting him out a side entrance as enters the control room and approaches her ...

NINA

FRANK

FRANK

Joel's got a source in the sheriff's department who says they've found drugs at the Granada Hills house. Cocaine in wrapped packages hidden in a crawlspace. Over 50 pounds. He's confirmed it with an investigator at the scene. It wasn't a home invasion, it was a drug robbery.

NINA

Give it to the noon crew.

FRANK

This is news.

NINA

It detracts from the story.

FRANK

It is the story.

NINA

The story is urban crime creeping into the suburbs. Innocent victims. That's the story.

FRANK

Jesus, you sound like Lou.

NINA

I think Lou is inspiring all of us to reach a little higher.

DIRECTOR

60 seconds.

NINA

(donning a headset)

I want a banner on the wrap-around and music through the dissolve ... Okay Bill if you'd like to put Joel up on three before you forget ...

DIRECTOR

45 seconds ... 45 seconds to the show ...

TECHNICAL DIRECTOR

It'll probably be coming out of edit four. 20 to the roll, 30 to the show.

NINA

Standby 12. After the break ready to roll 33.

DIRECTOR

15 to the roll.

TECHNICAL DIRECTOR

We'll be coming to you with a box.

DIRECTOR

And 10 - 9 - 8 - 7 - 5 seconds - 4 - 3 - 2 - 1 -

TECHNICAL DIRECTOR

Roll 24 and put it up with track.

NINA

Big energy.

INSIDE THE ROOM

LOU and DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI regarding each other ...

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

You understand you've been read your rights and you're here voluntarily?

LOU

That's right, yes.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

That this is being recorded and filmed?

LOU

From the camera up there, yes. Wide angle.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

Would you tell me how it is you were at the Chinatown Express tonight and called in the 911?

LOU

Of course. I'm happy to. It began earlier in the day. I was watering my plant and I looked out my window at my apartment, the one you visited, and I saw a dark colored car with two men parked across the street. I didn't think much about it, otherwise I would have reported it then. We began our night, my employee and myself, and around approximately 12:38 I looked in the rear view mirror and saw that we were being followed by what looked to be the same men in the same car. I made an evasive maneuver, circled back and tailed them to the Wendy's, at which time I witnessed them go inside and I recognized them as the men from the home invasion.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

You told me you didn't see the men, that you didn't get a good look at them.

LOU

Well it came back to me when I saw them going in. Their shapes and their movements. Then I saw that one of them had a gun under his shirt and so of course I immediately got my phone and I called 911.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

And started filming.

LOU

Exactly. That's what I do.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

That's your story?

LOU

That's what happened. That's why I'm here talking to you. I think they tracked me down after seeing my footage.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

Would you like to know what I think?

LOU

Yes, please.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

I think you withheld information. I think you saw the two men at the murder house in Granada Hills and you saw the car and you sat on it to start something you could film. What do you think about that?

LOU

I think it would be very unprofessional for someone to do that in my business.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

It would be murder.

LOU

I can understand why you're looking into it but I didn't do anything like that, nothing that could be considered wrong.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

You left the scene of an accident.

LOU

I wasn't involved in the accident. I avoided it and stopped.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

You don't fool me for a minute.

LOU

I'm glad.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

I think everything you've said is a lie.

LOU

I wish my partner was here to support what happened.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI

Your dead partner.

LOU

That's right.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI
You left your dead partner.

LOU
The ambulances had arrived. They're trained professionals.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI
You seem real broken up about it.

LOU
He died doing what he loved.

DETECTIVE FRONTEIRI
You filmed him dying.

LOU
That's my job, that's what I do. I like to say if you're seeing me you're having the worst day of your life.
